A merry nevv catch of all Trades.

219 To the tune of The cleane Contrary way

All Trades are not alike in show,
All Arts doe not agree:
All Occupations gaines are small,
As heare they all shall see,
As heare they all shall see.

The Courtier woes, his seruant bores,
Farre more then he can answer,
The Baker weighes with false essayes,
The Cuckold's turn'd a Monster. The Cuck. &c.

The Taylor sowes, the Smith he blowes,
The Tinker beates his pan:
The Pewterer tanke, crus tinke a tanke tanke,
The Apothecary ranta tan tan. The Apoth. &c.

The Pickthanke lurch doth vse to sipe,
The Mummer oft doth melt,
The Carpenter doth loue his rule,
And the Hatmaker loues his felt. And the, &c.

The Weauer thumps, his olde wife mumps,
The Barber gois trip trap.
The Butcher pickes, the Lapster nickes,
The Farmer tops by cap. The Farmer, &c.

The Carryer tooles, and deales in oyles,
The Cobler liues by his pace:
The Chamberlaine cheates with mustie meates,
And doth the Countrey farce. And doth, &c.

The Carter whips, the Beggar skips,
The Beadle liues by blowes,
Yet whores will be whores at honest mens doores
Dispight a'th Deadles nose. Dispight a'th, &c.

The Simme man crues, maid seruants hues,
And sways with him for wares,
The Countrey alle doth to the Colle,
Sell Orchards full of Peares. Sell, &c.

Some Schole masters teach boy and their teach,
The Mason deales with his square,
The Fletcher doth nock and wynes by the deck,
The Bearward liues by the Beare. Bee, &c.

The Scolers pate 'bout things of weight,
Is often troubled sore,
The Taylors yard is seldome marde.
Tho it measure many a score.
Tho it measure many a score.

A merry nevv catch of all Trades.

219 To the tune of The cleane Contrary way

All Trades are not alike in show,
All Arts doe not agree:
All Occupations gaines are small,
As heare they all shall see,
As heare they all shall see.

The Courtier woes, his seruant bores,
Farre more then he can answer,
The Baker weighes with false essayes,
The Cuckold's turn'd a Monster. The Cuck. &c.

The Taylor sowes, the Smith he blowes,
The Tinker beates his pan:
The Pewterer tanke, crus tinke a tanke tanke,
The Apothecary ranta tan tan. The Apoth. &c.

The Pickthanke lurch doth vse to sipe,
The Mummer oft doth melt,
The Carpenter doth loue his rule,
And the Hatmaker loues his felt. And the, &c.

The Weauer thumps, his olde wife mumps,
The Barber gois trip trap.
The Butcher pickes, the Lapster nickes,
The Farmer tops by cap. The Farmer, &c.

The Carryer tooles, and deales in oyles,
The Cobler liues by his pace:
The Chamberlaine cheates with mustie meates,
And doth the Countrey farce. And doth, &c.

The Carter whips, the Beggar skips,
The Beadle liues by blowes,
Yet whores will be whores at honest mens doores
Dispight a'th Deadles nose. Dispight a'th, &c.

The Simme man crues, maid seruants hues,
And sways with him for wares,
The Countrey alle doth to the Colle,
Sell Orchards full of Peares. Sell, &c.

Some Schole masters teach boy and their teach,
The Mason deales with his square,
The Fletcher doth nock and wynes by the deck,
The Bearward liues by the Beare. Bee, &c.

The Scolers pate 'bout things of weight,
Is often troubled sore,
The Taylors yard is seldome marde.
Tho it measure many a score.
Tho it measure many a score.

The lecond part.

To the ſame Tune.

The Iron-monger hardly deales.
All Frutterers loſe by th'rot:
The Bagler bayes and lines by lyes,
The Drunkard pyes the pot.
The Drunkard pyes the pot.

The Collier ſweares he'le loſe his eares,
But he will falſifie deale:
And ſuch are glad as mand the Wad,
For trifles ſo: to deale. For trifles, &c.

The Budget maker oftentimes,
Doe deale in braſen naples:
And Tradeſmen ſtore, turne Porters poore,
When other trading failes. When other, &c.

The Water-man will carry Nan,
For two-pence croſſe the River:
Yet this he'le ſay, if ſhe cannot pay,
Her paſſage free he'le giue her. Her paſſage, &c.

The Gloner poules, the Gallant ſmoakes,
Yet liues in Tradeſmen debts,
The Drawer thriues by honeſt wiues,
The Cheater liues by bets. The Cheater, &c.

The Tooke doth bayle, the Fencer foyle,
The Fatman he doth ſweat:
And Apple-John doth bibber Dan,
And ſhe giues him a heate. And ſhe, &c.

The Miller rubs, the Cutler ſcrubs,
The Semſters deale in Ruffes:
The ſmoakie man with his ſmall cole pan,
Maintained is by puffes. Maintained is, &c.

The Chandelors dreds great penance needs.
And Faggots theyr deare:
The Vintner drawes, yet makes no frayes,
The Begger is boyde of care. The Begger, &c.

The Morris dance doth brauely prance,
And about the Countrey goes:
And May-poles he ſhall mount to th'skie,
Deſpight of the Hobby horſe noſe. Deſpight, &c.

Diſſentions ſorde, the Parators nede,
And Scoulds him money giue:
And if there were no ſwaggering Whore,
The Pander could not liue. The Pander, &c.

Thus all ariſe by contraries,
Heauen ſend them croſſes ten:
Vnleſſe they all both great and ſmall,
Doe liue and doe honeſt men.
Doe liue and doe honeſt men.

FINIS.

Printed at London for I. Trundle.